It is with great excitement that African Growth and Development Policy (AGRODEP) Modeling Consortium announces its scientific conference to be held from March 21-23, 2023, in Kigali, Rwanda. The conference will feature sessions on a range of topics related to economic development in Africa. The thrust of the conference is to provide a premier interdisciplinary platform for AGRODEP members and affiliates to present and discuss the most recent innovative research, trends, and concerns as well as practical challenges encountered and solutions adopted in the fields of economics development.

Contributions are expected on issues of:

- » Impact of COVID-19 in Africa
- » International trade
- » Value chain and financing analysis
- » Natural resource management
- » Climate change
- » Energy efficiency
- » Food security and nutrition
- » Food system transformation
- » Agricultural policy
- » Agribusiness development
- » Poverty and inequality
- » Gender and youth inclusivity
- » Database development
- » Micro-econometrics
- » Economic modeling
- » Impact evaluation
- » Livestock economics
- » Labor economics
- » Remote Sensing
- » Artificial Intelligence and machine learning
- » Credit risk modeling
- » SPS and food safety issues
- » Public health policy

The 2023 AGRODEP Annual Conference organizing committee invites you to submit your research as a candidate to present at this event.

This conference will be an excellent opportunity to promote technical and methodological innovation, research grants, networking opportunities, and a good contribution to the advancement of pro-agricultural macroeconomic policies that can catalyze transformation of food systems to ensure the achievement of the SDGs in Africa.

For more information on the conference, you are invited to contact the organizing committee directly at awyamdjeu@akademiya2063.org and ifofana@akademiya2063.org.
